

III Call for Urban Dynamics Internships 2016-2017

Deadline: 28/12/16

Urban Dynamics Project: Cities have always been a primary destination (whether temporary or permanent) for transnational migrants, and are thus invariably a location where different cultures meet, interact, and—on occasion—come into social conflict. Yet "urban laboratories" have also given rise to creative activity and political reform movements. Currently, Europe's urban societies are confronted by massive new challenges: the trend toward urbanization continues unabated; existing infrastructure is threatening to collapse; economic crises have increased the risk of social dislocation; and political and economic factors have given rise to increasing migratory movements that are generating heterogeneous spaces. In light of the foregoing, the research-based UD Study and Training Programme aims to create the institutional conditions necessary for the education of skilled experts in the area of Urban Dynamics.
